

I AM YOUR GUARD

A stained glass illustration of Archangel Michael. He is depicted with large, multi-colored wings (shades of blue, green, and purple) and a golden, muscular physique. He wears a purple cape and a golden breastplate. His right arm is raised, holding a glowing sword that emits a bright light. The background is a mix of purple, blue, and yellow, suggesting a stained glass window.

Prince of the Archangels

Grace's Story

To hear the call for Archangel Michael to come forth and protect is not unusual when I travel with my sister Julia. I've come to expect it. She calls on him for protection during trips, to clear traffic when cars are bumper to bumper, to help us find the correct address when we get lost. She even asks him to help us find a quick parking space when it seems impossible. Her calls are prayers given out loud with great fervor.

Personally, I feel the safest when I travel with Julia because I know that Archangel Michael is on our side. But I had never felt his presence so real until the night of September 22, 2002, at approximately 11 p.m.

That night my sisters and I were on our way home from shopping and a late dinner. Megan, my youngest sister, was driving her van. Julia (thank God she was with us that night) was in the passenger's seat. And I was in the back. All of a sudden a speeding car raced on ahead of us and made a sharp stop directly in front of our van as we approached a stop sign on a dark and deserted road.

The next thing we knew, some men had jumped out of that car and were pointing their guns at us. All I remember is a young man pointing his gun straight toward me—and coming up close to where I was sitting! I could see his mouth moving, but I couldn't hear a word. My sisters say that he was yelling, "Get out of the van!"

Inside the van, I had fallen to my knees behind the passenger's seat and I could hear myself screaming. In between screams, I could also hear Megan repeating over and over, "Oh, my God, he has a gun!"

In all this confusion, I heard Julia begin to pray and call on Archangel Michael to help us. The instant I heard her praying, I felt a sense of tranquility within me. I was still terrified, but her prayers gave me a sense of hope. "Archangel Michael, help us! help us! help us! Archangel Michael, help us! help us! help us!"

As Julia called to the angel, Megan unfroze from her state of shock. She gripped the steering wheel and stepped on the gas pedal. Julia continued to pray. But as we headed away from the scene, we knew we were not quite out of danger. We knew that the men might follow us into our neighborhood. But they didn't. And they didn't shoot at us while they had the chance. They didn't even shoot as we sped away. We were safe!

I truly believe that Archangel Michael had spread his wings around us and protected us from the evil intentions of those men. Archangel Michael made his presence known, and I thank him.

Archangel Michael,

Thank you for giving me tranquility when I felt fear.

Thank you for giving Megan courage to speed away when she felt frozen in time.

Thank you for answering Julia's call for help.

And thank you for spreading your wings around us and keeping us safe.

Your Personal Protector

Who is this majestic being called Archangel Michael? Have others experienced his presence? Will he also help me and those I care about? How can we bring him into our lives?

Out of God's own flaming Spirit, he fashioned the angels—extensions of his Presence that manifest in a form we can recognize. God created angels before he created us so that we would have caregivers. So tender and so present is the Creator's love that he makes it known to us in a most personal way through his angels.

Archangels are magnificent cosmic beings. They're the highest rank in the orders of angels, and Archangel Michael is the one to whom all the other archangels and their legions defer. Known as the Prince of the Archangels, he has millions of legions of angels at his command.

He often appears dressed in brilliant blue armour and surrounded by an intense blue and white light that looks like lightning. The electric blue that flashes in his aura denotes the presence of power, strength and determination. It also relates to the divine plan, or blueprint.

Each one of us is created with a cosmic purpose, and it's etched within our soul as an inner blueprint. Archangel Michael reinforces this unique plan, and he liberates us to perform our mission. With his mastery of the quality of power, this mighty archangel also teaches the right use of power—in government, the economy, leadership and all aspects of organization, administration and law.

But above all else, he is known as the angel of protection. All of us need to be protected, physically as well as spiritually. Archangel Michael is dedicated to keeping us safe, defending our souls and caring for us.

He has saved me and my family from serious harm dozens of times that I know of and I'm certain many times more. I can remember once when I felt the presence of Archangel Michael so strongly that I could not move my hand or my arm against the power of that stupendous angel who was protecting me from danger.

Sometimes people think that specific angels can only do certain things. But angels have a great cosmic consciousness. Though they have specialties, they can extend themselves beyond just one area of influence. So even though Michael manifests power and protection, he also brings healing for our bodies and souls. Indeed, in the early Church he was revered as the heavenly physician.

As a healing angel he frees us from forces, within and without, that intensify our ailments, our burdens and our karma. He assists us in overcoming the thought processes that conceive and amplify disease, disintegration and death. If you have a problem, perhaps some kind of detrimental habit, he can help to heal and deliver you from that burden. His healing proceeds from the highest science of the will of God.

The Gift of Faith

Every archangel has a divine complement, or archeia. An archangel and archeia may merge into one or they may act separately as individual beings. Archangel Michael's divine complement is Archeia Faith and she ensouls the quality of faith.

True faith encompasses more than the usual definition of the word. It is also the ability to maintain the concept of your divine plan, to establish your calling, and to be strengthened by the power of God.

Each of us needs faith in something, and we can have that faith in God and his angels. For people may fail us, but God and the angels will not. God always keeps his promises to us, even if we don't immediately see the answers to our prayers. They will come. The answers will surely come, though it may not necessarily be in the way that we expect.

the light and sings
when the dawn
is still dark.*

Doubt and Fear Transformed

Many people doubt. They doubt themselves, they doubt God. Often they have a great deal of fear. Archeia Faith and her legions as well as Archangel Michael help us to overcome doubt and fear by the transmutative action of faith.

Michael has said that if we give him our doubts and fears, he will give back to us his full momentum of faith. You can say, “Here, Archangel Michael, take all this doubt and fear. I’ve lived with it long enough. I’ll take your faith; you take my doubt and fear.” Now, that’s a good deal!

Michael is able to serve in a cosmic manner because of his own immovable, enduring faith. He has faith that he will receive all that he requires to fulfill his service to life. In fact, one of his roles is Defender of the Faith, and this includes defending the faith in us as well as our faith in one another.

Miracles Are for Believers

This is a story of someone who has great faith in the power of Archangel Michael.

On August 31, 1985, Kendra got up at 5 a.m. Something came over her and she felt in her heart the intense determination that this was the day that the Night Stalker had to be caught. She felt prompted by Archangel Michael that now was the time. Kendra started offering prayers to Archangel

Michael and she repeated them by the hour, dedicating them to one purpose—catching that serial killer.

The very same day Richard Ramirez, the suspect, was caught in an east Los Angeles neighborhood when residents saw him trying to steal a car. They captured and held him until the police arrived. Police determined that Ramirez' fingerprints matched those found in a stolen car known to have been used by the Night Stalker.

For more than a year, Ramirez had been on a rampage of raping and murdering. But he had never been caught, even with all the newspaper articles, even with all the prayers. What Kendra did that made the difference was this: She concentrated her prayers on Archangel Michael, determined in her heart that this was the day, and would not leave her prayer vigil until the goal she intended was fulfilled.

You may not believe that this was accomplished through the action of one individual who decided to keep a vigil. They say miracles are for believers. But you yourself will become a believer when you start realizing the many miracles Archangel

Michael will perform, for you and also through you in your prayers for others.

Sometimes it only takes one person with determination and faith to turn the tide of something that is very dark, that is malignant and that has persisted without resolution. When you work with Archangel Michael, that person could be you!

Reflections

1. How do you experience faith in your life?
2. In what areas of your life would you like to strengthen your faith?
3. How can you use your faith to extend support to others?
